

Salish Kootenai College Online Tutoring Options

Online SKC Writing Center

The Online Writing Center will provide the same access to tutors that you received on campus. Tutors give feedback on your drafted writing assignments. They can help with any component of the writing process, from idea formulation to a final draft. They can help with thesis statements, outlines, citations, organization, sentence and paragraph construction, and word choice. Tutors are familiar with the writing assignments and instructor expectations for Comp I, Comp II, Writing Research Papers, and Nursing, but can help with all written work.

Online SKC Math/Science Lab

The Online Math/Science Lab provided similar services like those offered at the campus lab. Students will be able to meet with tutors, discuss problems, ask questions, and get instruction. Since this is a virtual lab, some services may be dependent on the student's technology and connection.

TutorMe Online Tutoring Services

TutorMe is an online service that uses paid students from all over who have trained as tutors. When you click into TutorMe you will be prompted to select a subject and state your problem. You can also upload an assignment or paper. Profiles of available tutors will be listed and you can select one that seems like a good fit. The tutoring session will begin immediately and will be a live session over your connected device.
